Forecast For West Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Saturday 18 Dec 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Cloudy or foggy for many this weekend.

Today:
Another dry but generally cloudy day is in store with morning mist and fog slow to lift. A few brief bright or sunny intervals are possible during the afternoon but it is likely to remain grey and chilly for most. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Tonight:
Cloud lowering to give further mist and fog across parts of the region overnight. Chilly but remaining largely frost free. Perhaps clearer and colder for the Peak District. Minimum temperature 2 deg C (36 deg F).

Sunday:
Mist and fog will give poor visibilities, especially through the morning and most places will remain grey and cloudy throughout the whole day. Feeling rather chilly but winds staying light. Maximum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Remaining dry and settled. Many areas cloudy at first but some sunshine is likely, especially on Tuesday and Wednesday. Frost and fog in places overnight and feeling increasingly cold.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.